Republican Poll Workers Needed in Franklin County
Openings In Jefferson Township, Gahanna and New Albany

(Columbus) The Franklin County Board of Elections is asking registered Republicans to serve as poll workers for the Nov. 5 general election.

Ohio law requires equal representation for both major political parties at every voting location. Republicans are needed to fill poll worker openings for voting locations in Jefferson Township, Gahanna and New Albany.

Voters need not live in those areas to serve. Anyone registered to vote in Franklin County is eligible to serve at any polling place in the county.

Poll workers are paid $133.72 or more depending on their duties. They're required to take a two to four hour training course, have reliable transportation to the polls and work all of Election Day starting at 5:30 a.m.

Voters interested in working the polls can register online at <http://vote.franklincountyohio.gov/me/> or by calling the board of elections at (614) 525-5393.
