NEW PRECINCTS CREATED FOR NOVEMBER ELECTION

(Columbus)— Twenty-two new precincts will be open when voters head to the polls Nov. 6 for Franklin County's next General Election. The new precincts, and other changes recently approved by the Franklin County Board of Elections, reflect changes in the county's population according to Director Matt Damschroder.

"Most of these areas were largely undeveloped not so long ago," said Damschroder. "Ohio law limits each precinct's registration to 1,400 voters. We've created new precincts because of high registration counts in areas where residences are replacing cornfields and former industrial and commercial space is being converted for apartments in downtown Columbus."

The changes impact 36,576 voters throughout Franklin County. Of that number, 19,128 will vote in precincts split from their original location; 15,883 others will move to new precincts. In addition, precincts in the villages of Harrisburg and Lockbourne have been combined with others in Pleasant and Hamilton Townships to cover 1,738 voters. Special ballots will be issued to Harrisburg and Lockbourne voters enabling the continued election of candidates for office in each village.

Elections officials will mail post cards to voters affected by the changes shortly. Voters may also find their polling place by visiting the board of elections Web site at <http://vote.franklincountyohio.gov/boe> or by phoning the board of elections at (614) 462-3100. A complete list of the changed precincts follows this release.
